

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1. INTRODUCTION.....	1
1.1 Background and Context .....	1
1.2 Problem Statement .....	4
1.3 Objectives of the Research .....	6
1.4 Thesis Outline .....	8
2. GLOBAL AND NATIONAL SCENARIO OF CONVENTIONAL AND ORGANIC HORTICULTURE SECTOR.....	9
2.1 Horticulture Sector at Global Level .....	9
2.2 Horticulture Sector at National Level (India).....	10
2.3 Critical Issues and Challenges of Conventional Farming .....	13
2.4 Development of Organic Agriculture.....	15
2.4.1 Basic Concepts, Definitions and Principles of Organic Agriculture.....	15
2.4.2 Global Overview of Organic Agriculture.....	17
2.4.3 Overview of Organic Agriculture in India .....	20
2.4.3.1 Organic Certification and Market Size Overview in India.....	22
2.4.3.2 Operational and Institutional Structure of Organic Agriculture in India .....	28
2.5 Concluding Remarks .....	30
3 . THEORETICAL FOUNDATIONS AND CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK FOR THE RESEARCH.....	32
3.1 Value Chain Analysis.....	32
3.1.1 Value Chain Concept and Issues .....	32
3.1.2 Origin and History of the Field of the Value Chain Studies .....	33
3.1.3 Structure and Stages of the Value Chain.....	35
3.2 Value Chain Development .....	39
3.3 VCD Assets and Asset Building .....	41
3.3.1 Sustainable Agriculture .....	41
3.3.2 Sustainable Livelihood.....	42
3.3.3 Development of Livelihood Approaches and Livelihood Assets.....	43
3.3.4 Sustainable Livelihood Framework (SLF) .....	45
3.4 Application of VCA and VCD on Agricultural and Horticultural Commodities .....	47
3.5 Upgrading and Theory of the Value Chain Governance.....	49

3.5.1 Value Chain Upgrading.....	49
3.5.2 Value Chain Governance .....	53
3.6 Transaction Costs Economics Theory .....	62
3.6.1 Assumptions of Transaction Costs Economics Theory.....	64
3.6.2 Dimensions of Transactions .....	66
3.6.3 Model to Analyse Transaction Cost and Nature of Transactions.....	69
3.7 Social Capital Theory .....	71
3.7.1 Dimensions of Social Capital.....	72
3.7.2 Forms of Social Capital.....	75
3.7.3 Channels of Social Capital .....	75
3.7.4 Social Capital Theory Framework .....	76
3.8 Conceptual Framework .....	77
4. METHODOLOGY .....	79
4.1 Description of the Study Area.....	79
4.2 Rationale for Using Qualitative and Quantitative Approach (Mixed method) .....	82
4.3 Research Design Overview .....	84
4.3.1 Preliminary Empirical Research.....	84
4.3.2 Research Sample .....	85
4.3.3 Data Collection Methods.....	86
4.4 Data Analysis .....	91
4.4.1 Application of the value chain development analysis methodology.....	92
4.4.2 Statistical Analysis .....	93
5. RESULTS AND DISCUSSION .....	97
5.1 Organic Tomato and Mango Production Practices in the rural Bangalore and Kolar Districts of Karnataka State.....	97
5.1.1 Organic Tomato Production Practices in the Study Area .....	98
5.1.2 Organic Mango Production Practices in Study Area.....	102
5.2 Value Chain Mapping: Actors, Functions, Linkages, and Enablers involved in Fruit and Vegetable Chains.....	104
5.2.1 Flow of Fruits and Vegetables through Various Marketing Channels in Karnataka .....	104
5.2.2 The Value Chain Mapping of Tomato and Mango: Functions, Actors, and Enablers .....	106
5.2.3 Actors and their Functions in the Value Chain of Organic Tomato and Mango ..	109

5.2.4 Observed and Potential Linkages of Organic Tomato and Mango Value Chains in Karnataka .....	111
5.3 Distinctive Aspects of Smallholder Organic Producers in Karnataka .....	114
5.3.1 Characteristics of Smallholder Producers: Empirical Findings .....	114
5.3.2 Factors Influencing on Smallholder Producers for Adoption of Organic Farming Practices in Karnataka .....	117
5.3.3 Factors Influencing Market Linkage of Smallholder Producers of Organic Tomatoes and Mangos .....	124
5.3.3.1 Determinants of Smallholder Organic Tomato Producers Market Linkage ..	125
5.3.3.2 Determinants of Smallholder Organic Mango Producers Market Linkage....	128
5.4 Asset Formations and Sustainable Livelihood .....	131
5.4.1 Natural Capital .....	131
5.4.2 Physical Capital .....	135
5.4.3 Human Capital.....	138
5.4.4 Social Capital .....	142
5.4.5 Financial Capital .....	147
5.4.6 Overall Change in Capitals after the Adoption of Organic Farming .....	150
5.5 External Environment in the Value Chain .....	153
5.5.1 Changing Consumer Preferences and Regional Competition .....	153
5.5.2 Description of Organic Agriculture Policy Environment and Institutional Setup Affecting the Chain Performance .....	154
5.5.3 Existing Institutional Setup or Services for Smallholder Producers .....	158
5.6 Supporting Organizations or Markets to Smallholder Producers Value Chains .....	161
5.6.1 Available Infrastructure Services .....	162
5.6.2 Financial Services .....	163
5.6.3 Sector-Specific Services.....	164
5.7 Description of Vertical Relations in the Value Chain.....	166
5.8 Description of Horizontal Relations in the Value Chain.....	167
5.9 Transaction Attributes and Transaction Costs in Organic Fruit and Vegetable Production and Marketing .....	169
5.9.1 Characteristics of Smallholder Organic Producers' Group and Buyer Linkages with Respect to Transaction Cost Attributes .....	172
5.9.2 Transaction Attributes and Observed Modes of Engagement.....	175
5.10 Social Capital Formation Among Organic and Conventional Producers Community .....	180

5.10.1 Principle Component Analysis of Organic and Conventional Producers Social Capital Indicators .....	181
5.10.2 Cognitive and Structural Social Capital among Organic and Conventional Producers .....	183
5.11 Upgrading .....	186
5.12 The End Market .....	194
6. DISCUSSION OF RESEARCH FINDINGS IN THE CONTEXT OF INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH .....	197
7. SUMMARY, CONCLUSIONS, AND PRACTICAL IMPLICATIONS .....	200
7.1 Introduction to Organic Fruits and Vegetables Farming in Karnataka .....	201
7.2 Actors, Functions, and Linkages Among Actors Participating in the Organic Tomato and Mango Value Chains .....	202
7.3 Distinctive Aspects of Smallholder Producers Adoption of Organic Farming and Market Linkage in Karnataka .....	204
7.4 Post-Adoption Changes in Asset Formation and Sustainable Livelihood Among Smallholder Organic Producers .....	206
7.5 External Environment in the Value Chain .....	209
7.6 Horizontal and Vertical Relations Among Actors Participating in the Organic Fruit and Vegetable Value Chain .....	211
7.7 Transaction Attributes and Transaction Costs in Organic Fruit and Vegetable Production and Marketing .....	212
7.8 Social Capital Formation in Organic and Conventional Producer Communities .....	215
7.9 Upgrading .....	216
7.10 Summarised results in the form of SWOT analysis .....	218
7.11 Practical Implications .....	219
7.12 Limitations and Further Research .....	222
REFERENCES .....	224

Dr. Nithya Vishwanath Gowdru
Value Chain Analysis of Organic Fruit and Vegetables in Karnataka, India:
Smallholder's Perspective
2018 / 290 Seiten / 39,95 € / ISBN 978-3-89574-937-7
Verlag Dr. Köster, Berlin / www.verlag-koester.de